

In Memoriam

On Saturday, April 11th, 2009, former professional footballer, filmmaker, and Australian Survivor winner Rob Dickson was tragically killed in a car accident in South Africa, along with his five-year-old son Byron. His wife Dusty and eight-year-old son Gabriel (briefly seen during the show) were also injured.

Although this blog, and its predecessor, were decidedly not fans of him and his actions during Australian Survivor, there is no denying that Rob was one of the most interesting characters of the season, and the show would have been much more boring without him.

My deepest condolences to his family, friends, and those who knew him in real life; and I apologise for any off-colour remarks I made about him during the Australian Survivor recaps.

I can't and won't officially speak on behalf of Jason and Will (aka WhoreBoy and EmoHunk), but I am confident they would also like to pass on their sympathies.

Rob Dickson, 1963 – 2009

Rest In Peace
